MMP Tax is announced as a finalist in Tax and Accountancy category for immediate release

Publish date: 26 September 2022

TIGA has announced MMP Tax as a finalist in the TIGA 2022 Games Industry Awards. The winner of the Tax and Accounting firm category will be announced at the prestigious awards dinner to be held in Westminster on the 10 November 2022.

The short listing as finalist recognises the contribution that MMP, the specialist multi-service technology incentives consultancy, has made in assisting TIGA members claim Video Games Tax Relief (VGTR) and R&D Tax Relief (R&DTR).

MMP, members of the Chartered Institute of Taxation, work with studios, to ensure they gain maximum benefit from technology based incentives such as VGTR providing a full, client light touch, service offering; including handling the submission process for the British Film Institute cultural certification for VGTR.

MMP Tax is a long term supporter of TIGA, from assisting with the original lobbying for the Video Games Tax Relief scheme to be introduced, promoting the scheme with roadshows around the country and contributing to TIGA guides for R&D and Video Games Tax Relief.

David Marshall, Director at MMP Tax Limited, commented:

“MMP is delighted to be finalists for the award from TIGA and will continue to support games studios with their claims for R&D Tax Relief and Video Games Tax Relief. The addition of Video Games Tax Relief to the series of technology tax reliefs introduced and enhanced by Government has demonstrated that UK development studios are recognised as playing an important role in UK Pic. It is an excellent example of connected incentives by government within their technology incentive framework and the power of lobbying by TIGA on behalf of its members”.
